Kovensky & Company to Change Name to Kovensky Daniels

WASHINGTON D.C., April 1, 2004...Kovensky & Company, a leading national attorney search consulting firm, today announced that the company is changing its name to Kovensky Daniels.

The name was selected to acknowledge the addition and contribution of Stephen Daniels, now a principal partner of the firm. Daniels specializes in advising law firm partners and senior level candidates on law firm mergers and acquisitions of practice groups. Prior to joining the firm, Daniels worked in the finance and business development areas of several multinational companies.

Concurrent with the name change to Kovensky Daniels, the firm has updated its company identity and website, which is now www.kovdan.com.

“Since our founding in 1996, this is the first time we’ve added a new principal. It’s also exciting be updating our brand and launching an updated Web presence. These actions enable us to better serve our clients and are creating a solid platform for our firm’s continued success and growth,” said Gabriela Kovensky, founder and managing partner.
